WELCOME

We would like to let you all know that we have recently welcomed a new vet to the Campbell and Galloway team. Ella Merema graduated from Murdoch University in Western Australia in 2005. She worked with companion animals on Australia's Sunshine Coast for two years before moving to the UK. After spending two years touring around England working as a locum vet in numerous practices she has finally settled in Glasgow. Ella dearly values building close relationships with her clients and is looking forward to meeting everyone! In her spare time Ella enjoys photography and cuddling up with her two cats Chica and Morgan, who recently flew out from Australia to visit her.

CONGRATULATIONS LOUISE!!

Louise came back this morning from her holiday to receive the results of the practical nursing exams that she sat in September. All of her hard work and practice has paid off - she has passed as we all new she would. Louise is now a fully Qualified Veterinary Nurse.

WELL DONE!!!!

Are you ready for the firework season?

In last months newsletter we explained different ways to help your pet through the fireworks. This can be an extremely stressful time for them. We have asked some of our clients that have used these products to give us some feedback to help you make a decision on what you would find easiest for your pet.

- Some months ago Elspeth recommended trying a course of Zylkene® capsules on my black Labrador, George. George is quite a nervous dog. He would bark at people he didn't know who would stop and talk to him or me and I was extremely wary of letting him off the lead in the park if other dogs that I didn't know were about. In particular, he hated a collie that lives a few streets away from us. Elspeth suggested Zylkene® to see if they would calm him down, and allow him to be sociable. I am amazed at the difference the Zylkene® has made. He has one capsules every morning and by the end of the first week, George was walking past dogs which in the past he would have been growling and snarling at. I can happily let him off the lead in the knowledge that he will be friendly to the other dogs in the neighbourhood – he even ignores the collie now! Now people talk to him and clap him and he just lets them.

- Libby is a thirteen-year-old Cavalier King Charles spaniel who, last year, for no reason at all, suddenly started to have distressing bouts of panting, sometimes in the early hours of the morning. Various tests showed that there was no obvious cause for this panting and a variety of medication was tried to no avail. As a last resort a DAP® collar was tried. The effect was amazing since she started wearing the collar the bouts of panting have stopped, and in general she seems a much happier and more composed dog than she was a year ago. The DAP® collar is now allowing her to enjoy a stress-free old age.

(The Dogs Trust ran a trial on kennel stress and the effect of DAP® they found it was so good that they now fit every dog that comes in with a DAP® collar)

- I have been using the travel spray in the car for the last 2 weeks and it has worked wonders! Alfie no longer spends the whole journey drooling and being sick. He either curls up and goes to sleep or just watches the world go by. DAP® is fantastic and I would highly recommended trying it. Alfie is happier and calmer about travelling now and our car smells much better it is not being covered in drool and sick all the time!
